Max Group Technology

Font End Developer   2021 – 2023

I was responsible for building responsive websites that provide a seamless user experience across different devices and screen sizes. That involves utilizing HTML for proper content structure and semantic markup, CSS for styling and customization, Bootstrap for efficient development using pre-designed components and a responsive grid system, and JavaScript for interactivity and dynamic functionality.

I completed over 100 websites in two years, demonstrating my ability to handle high project volume while delivering quality work. Proficient in HTML, CSS, Bootstrap, and JavaScript, I showcased expertise in essential front-end development languages and frameworks. My role involved creating responsive websites from scratch and successfully delivering projects remotely.
